

Learning Disability Screening Project.

This report is about a project.

The project was for NHS England North Midlands.

It happened in Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire.

Drs sent easy read letters to adults with learning disabilities.

The letters reminded them to attend appointments they had missed.

Screening is a good idea.

It can stop people getting ill.

It saves the NHS money.

The appointments were for 4 types of health screening:

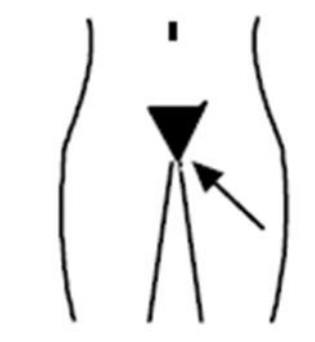

Abdominal Aortic Aneurysm

Bowel

Breast

Cervical

More people went for screening because of the Drs letters.

We think Drs should keep sending easy read letters.
